PREFACE.

I WISH to thank Professor H. Marshall Ward for his help in connexion with no. 3171; Mr A. W. Pollard and Mr R. Proctor again for aid whenever appealed to; Mr Aldis Wright, not only for the note upon page 953 but for constant suggestions and details; and Mr H. F. Moule for the note upon no. 5716.

The Librarian has recently presented sixty-three volumes, all printed in Cambridge, which have been collected by himself during the last twenty years. The Registrary has given all such volumes from his collection, printed in or relating to Cambridge, as were needed by the Library. The Collection of University Act Verses, hitherto preserved in the Registry, has been transferred to the Library, opportunely for the present volume.

C. E. S.

The English Schoole-Maister: Teaching all his Schollers, of what age soever, the most easie, ⌜ ⌟perfect order of distinct Readi⌜ng w⌟riting our English-ton⌜g ⌟ ever yet beene ⌜ ⌟ by any. And further also, teacheth a direct course, how any unskilful person may easily both understand any hard English-words, which they shall in the Scriptures, sermons or elsewhere heare or reade: and also be made able to use the same aptly themselves; and generally, whatsoever is necessary to bee knowne for the English speech: so that he that hath this booke onely, needeth to buy no other to make him fit, from ⌜ ⌟ Letters unto the Grammar-Schoole, for an Appre⌜ ⌟ or any other his private use, so farre as concerneth English. And therefore is made not onely for children (though the first Booke be meere childish for them) but also for all other, especially that are ignorant in the Latine tongue. In the next page the Schoole-Master hangeth forth his Table to the view of all beholders, setting forth some of the chiefe commodities of his Profession. Devised for thy sake that wantest any part of this skill, by Edward Coote, Master of the Free-Schoole in Bury St. Edmond. Perused and approved by pub⌜li ⌝ Authority, and now the ⌜ ⌝ time imprin⌜t ⌝ with certaine Copi[e] to write by, ⌜ ⌝ end of this Booke added. London Printed for the Company of Stationers. 1638. 4°.
